KEY RISKS

To the Organisation is when	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you operate independently (it's the members' money not yours) • you don't report regularly and in a manner that enables the Board to make informed financial decisions • you don't know or implement the tasks of your position within the timeframes allocated • you don't know the legal requirements of the organisation (constitution, leases, rules, or funding obligations) • you work in isolation • you attempt to do everything on your own and you don't delegate • the club is worse off, because of the way you and other members of the team manage decisions • you don't consider the impact your decisions may have on the future existence of the organisation • you don't communicate effectively with the Board • you operate to further your own personal agenda • you are not respectful to other members of the Board, volunteers or members
To Organisation performance is when	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you don't recognise that you need help • you don't understand the importance of auditing, reporting and tracking financial performance. • you don't ensure that the administration and management needs are appropriately financed &/or supported. • you don't recognise, reward and support club volunteers, for their contribution
To YOU when	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you are set up for failure because the members or your own expectations are too high • you are placed in situations where you are required to make decisions on your own • members refuse to provide the resources required to administer the organisation • you are burnt out - to prevent burn out, ensure your duties are realistic - the club must "spread" & you must "delegate" responsibility... if you do too much and don't delegate you will burn out and it will be difficult to find another volunteer and all your hard work will be lost
