To the Association is when

- you don't know what the Executive are making decisions on.
- you are complacent and let the executive take control &/or do everything
- you don't monitor and/or ensure no individual or specific cluster of individuals have control or undue influence
- you don't know or implement the tasks of your position within the timeframes allocated
- you don't know the legal requirements of the Organisation (constitution, leases, rules, or funding obligations)
- you work in isolation
- you attempt to do everything on your own and you don't delegate
- it is worse off, because of the way you and other members of the team manage decisions
- you don't consider the impact your decisions may have on the future existence of the organisation
- you don't communicate effectively with each other or with members
- you operate to further your own personal agenda
- you are not respectful to other members of the Board, volunteers or members

To Association performance is when

- you don't recognise when you need help
- you don't understand the importance of auditing and tracking performance (financial, organisation, on-field development).
- you don't ensure that the administration and management needs are appropriately financed &/or supported.
- you don't recognise, reward and support volunteers, for their contribution.

KEY RISKS

To the YOU when

- you are set up for failure because the members or your own expectations are too high
- you are placed in situations where you are required to make decisions on your own
- members refuse to provide the resources required to administer the organisation.
- you are burnt out To prevent burn out, ensure your duties are realistic the association must "share the load" & you must delegate responsibility... if you do too much and don't delegate you will burn out. It is then difficult to find another volunteer and all your hard work will be lost.
